- Use two strands of floss - black, green, gray, red, or white as appropriate.
- Tack the lower body to the front and back along the top edge. On the front, add the gray decorative running stitch just above the green. Place the circles for the headlights and emblem; tack with a gray running stitch. Place the white circles for the signal lights. Top with red on the back and yellow on the front. Tack the edges. Place and tack the bow pieces with red floss.
- Position the tires on the back of one of the body pieces; pin. Position the front and back bumpers; tack along the edges with white, catching the tires in the process. Add the push bars, tacking around the edges. Use a white running stitch to add the lines that connect the push bars to the bumpers.
- Position the windows and tack around the edges with gray. Sew the wipers with black backstitches finishing with a French knot at the base.
- Add the decorative running stitches to the back. Sew on the license plate and add the "Ho Ho Ho" with black floss.
- Using two strands of matching floss (white along the top and bottom, green or gray along the green edges), sew the two sides together with a blanket stitch. Before you finish the blanket stitch, pause to lightly with fiberfill.
