Pin the upper body to the body front. Tack on a circle of black felt with a white French knot. Add the decorative eye stitching with black floss.

Pin the upper wing and wing to the body. Use a blanket stitch around the outer edges of the upper wing. Add the decorative stitching to the wing using white floss. Add the running stitch to the tail.

Tack the beak into place with a backstitch in black. Alternatively, use floss to sew on the beak.

Pin the completed body front and body back. Sew the two body pieces together using a blanket stitch. Pause to stuff with fiberfill before completing the blanket stitch.

I used a piece of wire bent into a "U" shape tucked between the body front and back for legs.

Have fun!
